The State Sentinel. The expositions of political and moral corruption, which the editors of the State Sentinel are now making, under the head of " Political Mysteries of Indianapolis," is the most important and interesting subect agitating the political horizon at this time in the State. They are exposing in bold dashes the "old hunkers," the "camp followers," the "political taining 80 acres; mortgaged by Samuel Walker; loan, leeches," and the corrupt office seeking weather, The e half of the n w qr of sec 26, t 13 n, r 7 e, co n cocks, which hang like drones upon their party. In these sketches they do not leave the reader in doubt as to the object of their remarks. They name their men. They have reached No. 8 of these mysteries! In the last number they "propose to give a sketch of s w qr of sec 3, same t and r; mortgaged by H. W. the political history of the Old Junto " of their party, Trayler; loan, interest, etc. 597 dolls 51 cts. and to use their own language they begin with James Morrison "the biggest toad in the puddle." They

a specimen of this sketch we give one paragraph, to "JAMES MORRISON, now President of the State Bank. Mr. Morrison is by birth a Scotchman, by profession a lawyer, by nature an aristocrat, and by accident a nominal Democrat. He is a man of talents -no doubt about that-and learned in the law. He great mass of the people. He rather despises them than otherwise, and consequently has no shadow of Part of the w h of s e qr of sec 20, t 18 n, r 7 e, con- said, containing 58 12-100 acres; mortgaged by William fully. His disgust of the "common herd" is so intense, that it will stick out in spite of himself.

The reader should recollect that these expositions

are of men of their own party, and herein consist their merit. Ever since we have been engaged with the press we have despised the trammels and traces which have confined and controlled the political press. It has been considered treasonable for a political paper to expose the corruptions of its own party-and few editors have been found of sufficient nerve, and sufficiently independent of party support, to apply the lash to the corrupt political leaders around them. and who direct and control the actions and affairs of their party. As a general rule, corrupt political knaves, rule, in this county, no matter which party is in power-and all this grows out of the venality and subserviency of the party press. It matters not how thunder its anathemus against a corrupt political The w half of sec 18, t 13 n, r 9 w; mortgaged by opponent, the people heed not its warnings. They ascribe it all to party prejudice, party purposes, and selfish ends. We have seen and felt these things with a sorrowful heart; and we acknowledge that we have too often and too long been controlled by the same trammels. But we believe our brethren of the Press will give us credit for some independence in such

We rejoice at the noble stand taken by the State Sentinel. We look upon it as the dawn of a better day-of clearer skies and purer atmosphere. We followers are always worming themselves up to the highest stations, and polluting with their slime the most honorable seats in our country. But if the Press and the people would act honestly with each other, many of those now considered honorable, would be compelled to seek a lower station. Can any Press be honest which always praises the members of its own party, and abuses its opponents? This is a serious question, and we wish the people would think of this matter seriously. Honest men, as well as scoundrels are to be found in either party. A press may be devoted to principles, which may be pure and eternal, and yet oppose men who profess those principles for selfish purposes, and who abandon them so soon as their interest leads in another direction. But so soon as an editor exposes the corruptions of a member of his own party, the cry is raised against Lot no 79, being part of section sold for the use of the ing in all 143 97-100 acres more or less; mortgaged by Part of the e half of out-lot No. 16; see book 8 of the him. Persecution, the lowest and last of all political hobbies is often put in requisition. But so long as the people will be led away by such men, or by any man, or set of men the Press will have to echo its biddings or cease to be. But when the people will discard party, caucuses, Conventions, and all the machinery and drills which have been instituted and continued by the unworthy, and the corrupt, who could not succeed in an open, honest and fair field, then will men be elected to honorable stations because they are "honest, capable and attached to the Constitution." acres; mortgaged by Wm M Kenton; loan, interest etc The Press then will be independent, and will again assume the station of Palladium of the people's rights
